Regulation (EU) 2023/998 on the general safety of products "GPSR"

Given that the cosmetics sector is in fact regulated at European level by EU Regulation 1223/2009 and its subsequent regulatory provisions, which contain the same objectives set out in the regulation in question on product safety, the application of which starts on 13 December 2024, no obligations other than those already in place and implemented by M.MAGI SRL are foreseen.

However, M.MAGI SRL wishes to point out and recommend:

- The most effective way to check the quality of a cosmetic product and your individual safety is to read the list of ingredients on the label. The description of the components is done following an international standard: the INCI (International Nomenclature of Cosmetic Ingredients).
- Carefully follow the indications and instructions printed on the package, on any leaflet, on any advice from a beauty operator, and on the website www.mmagi.it.
- Soft scrub product for hands, contained in a PETG bottle with safety cap.
- External use.
- Product intended for professional use and/or home use for an adult audience: keep away from children.
- Mixture of oil + salt, as indicated in the media indicated above, both for professional use and for home use.
- Apply the product to healthy skin, therefore not damaged, free from wounds, abrasions and burns.
- It is advisable to carry out a simple test before using the product on the hands, especially for the most sensitive subjects, testing the product on a small portion of skin of the forearm, and wait the following 24 hours to ascertain any allergic reactions.
- If the product should inadvertently come into contact with eyes and/or mucous membranes, rinse the affected area thoroughly with fresh water.
- If the product should be inadvertently ingested due to some incorrect maneuver, go to a poison center of a hospital with the composition/ingredients of the product, printed on each package, primary or secondary. In the absence of hospitals, induce vomiting.
- The product should be shaken vigorously to thoroughly disperse the salt in the oil. Take, pouring on dry hands, an appropriate amount of product. Rub the poured product delicately between the hands, around the fingers and nails for one to three minutes. Then, rinse the hands thoroughly with water, preferably lukewarm. Then dry them with a cloth or soft paper.
- Pay attention after the treatment, the hands could be slippery.
- Do not exceed the times and quantities of product to be applied, in relation to the type of skin, which are indicated.
- Take care to close the container well after use, so as not to create oxidation or contamination of the product.
- Do not exceed, from the moment of opening the product package, the time of use of the product indicated on the package by the PAO, of 6 months.
